

2 YOCHANAN (Yojanan Bet)

2 Yochanan

1:1 From the elder:

To the chosen lady and for her son whom I truly love, and not only me, but also those that have come to know the truth.

1:2 because the truth which remains in us and which will be with us forever:

1:3 Grace, mercy and shalom in part from Yod-He-Wa-He the father and Yahshua Ha Mashiaj, the son of the father, they will be with us in truth and love.

1:4 I'm very happy to see within your sons, that they walk in the truth, according to the commandments which we have received from the father.

1:5 And now I implore you, lady, not as if I'm writing you a new commandment, but the same which we had since the beginning: that we love one another.

1:6 And this is the love: that we love according to his commandments. This is the commandment in which to walk in, as you have heard since the beginning.

1:7 Because many deceivers have gone out into the world, which do not know that Yahshua Ha'Mashiaj has come in the flesh. Such a person is a deceiver and an anti-Mashiach.

1:8 Take care for yourselves as to not lose the fruit of our labor, instead that you may receive an abundant reward.

1:9 Whomsoever departs and does not remain in the teachings of the Mashiaj does not have Elohim. The one which remains in the teaching, this one has the father and the son.

1:10 If anyone comes to you and does not have these teachings, do not receive them in your house, nor say: "Welcome".

1:11 Because the one that welcomes such a one as these, he is also a partaker of his bad deeds.

1:12 Although I have so many things to write you, I did not want to communicate myself with you though ink and paper. Better still, I hope to be with you and speak with you personally, so that our joy may be complete.

1:13 The sons of your chosen sister sends you their greetings.